Issue 19 of the "Bulletin of the Center for Science Provision of Agribusiness in the Kharkiv region", which legally was founded in 2003, is before you. It is interesting and significant to mention that historically the newsletter "Science Provision of Agribusiness in the Kharkiv region", the first issue of which was released in 2000, was the forerunner of the "Bulletin"

That is, the "de facto" history of the "Bulletin of the Center for Science Provision of Agribusiness in the Kharkiv region" covers a 15-year period. Over these 15 years, we have come a long way. Today, our publication has received the status of professional publication of the SAC of Ukraine in Agricultural Sciences and is a recognized platform for young and acknowledged scientists not only in Ukraine but also abroad.

On the one hand, authors of the "Bulletin ..." are academics, government officials, leading experts from various sectors, and on the other hand, a new generation of young scientists, who will continue to pave scientific ways. The team of the "Bulletin of the Center for Science Provision of Agribusiness in the Kharkiv region" actually feels this prolific fusion positively affect the effective development of the national innovation-aimed agribusiness. The Kharkiv region, as a testing ground and pilot region for new directions and approaches to scientific provision of agricultural sectors, clearly demonstrates the efficiency and high potential of the Ukrainian science.

Issue 19 contains 29 scientific articles by 73 authors from 23 scientific institutions of Ukraine and Bulgaria in the following areas: "Breeding and Seed Production", "Plant Production", "Soil Science and Agrochemistry", "Animal Husbandry", "Mechanization and electrification", "Economy", and "History of Science."

The team of the "Bulletin..." to a considerable extent can chalk the contribution to innovation transfer in different fields and creation of a positive and attractive investment climate in the Kharkiv region and the whole Ukraine up to its asset. We are grateful to all our contributors, experts and reviewers.

Relying on the fruitful experience of the Plant Production Institute and V.Ya. Yuryev of NAAS, we can adduce, as the essence of our publication, Yuryev's slogan "FROM traditions - TO innovations".
